Welcome!

This new kind of mandala coloring book, created by Barbara Evans and Charlotte Evans, holds the intention of loving support within every page.

Coloring for Joy is built around a series of mandala templates, inspiring paintings and positive Key Words. There are also places for those who love to write and draw, to express their thoughts and feelings. The colors and templates in this book are chosen for their known association with Love, Peacefulness, Hope and Joy.

Coloring the templates will help children of all ages to connect with their own inner beauty and precious gifts. The purpose is to have fun and feel loved, empowered and supported within the world.
